Our camp concept

Introducing disko dolce at AfrikaBurn, where the essence of the good life is celebrated through the joy of dancing and the sweet-ness of connection. The name encapsulates our core ethos: “disko” evokes the vibrant rhythms of the dancefloor, while “dolce” captures the essence of a life that’s sweet, fun, and full of pleasure.

Expect lively pasta parties set to the disco beats, energizing morning workouts, and laid-back vibes. We also open up our space to other Burners, offering a welcoming spot for events, performances, or simply chilling out and connecting with others. Let’s create memories together!

About AfrikaBurn & Theme Camps

AfrikaBurn is a community of participants who come together to create art, costume, performance, Theme Camps, music, mutant vehicles and much, much more. All of this is created through a volunteer and gifting culture. The main annual AfrikaBurn event takes place in the Tankwa Karoo, located between the Northern Cape and Western Cape Provinces of South Africa, usually at the end of April every year.

AfrikaBurn's aim is to be radically inclusive and accessible to anyone. The touchstone of value in our culture will always be immediacy: experience before theory, moral relationships before politics, survival before services, roles before jobs, ritual before symbolism, work before vested interest, participant support before sponsorship.

Theme Camps are designed and created with the intention of welcoming, engaging and entertaining other participants. Think of them as little spaces within the larger village of Tankwa Town. You're collectively creating a spaceship open to all who want to participate, and generating a fabulous project to share with the community.
